The Schedule Gap Filler adds students who have empty instructional gaps to the selected course and section chosen in the editor. The Filler evenly distributes the students across all open seats within a course's sections.

Only the courses with sections having open seats are available for selection. This includes course sections that do not meet the student max level and those course sections that only contain students who may have dropped the section.

If a student has a strict constraint with another student already scheduled into the course section, the student is not placed. Student Constraints can be overridden if necessary in the Scheduling Board or using the Walk-In Scheduler.

After the gaps have been filled for the students, a report generates indicating which information was filled. At the time of report generation, the total student Capacity and Available seat columns are updated with current information.

This Schedule Gap Filler fills student schedules based on the selected course and section. Use the Student Gap Scheduler to manually select the courses and sections for the student.

Student Schedule Gap Filler

This tool fills the selected sections to the students' schedule which has empty instructional scheduling gaps. This tool will always fill students to the section which has largest number of open seats if there are more than one section available for students' schedule gaps. Only the courses with sections having empty seats will be listed in the course drop down box. The term-period grid will be updated automatically when a course and corresponding sections are selected/unselected. After filling the students' schedule gap, a report will be generated to list actions taken for each student and the selected sections' information. Schedule Gaps in terms prior to the entered Effective Date will not be affected.

Fill Schedule Gaps and Generate the Report

1. Select the students to fill schedule gaps by Grade Level or Ad hoc Filter.
2. Enter the Enrollment Effective Date.
3. Select the Course to fill in the Schedule Gap.
4. Select the Sections to fill with students who have schedule gaps.
5. Select the Report Format.
6. Click the Fill Schedule Gaps and Generate Report button. The results list the students who were added (or not added) to course sections and the sections to which the students were added. It also notes the reason why a student was not placed into the section (student constraint, no empty seat, etc.).

| 2. Create a separate period schedule for the responsive courses, if necessary (when these are special days outside of the main period schedule). If necessary, mark that period schedule as an Exception/Special Day. When this is done, the period schedule is excluded from the Day Rotation process and would need to be manually added to a Day. | Campus Administrator/Tech Director | Period Setup |
| 3. Mark which periods in the period schedule can be marked as responsive, indicating responsive courses can be scheduled into them. | Campus Administrator/Tech Director | Period Setup |

| 10. | Request responsive day offerings . | Students | Responsive Schedule Designer |
| 11. | Using the Schedule Gap Filler, schedule any students who are not scheduled for a session. | Curriculum Director | Schedule Gap Filler |

Use the Schedule Gap Filler to identify a list of students who have not requested an offering or whose teachers have not been requested to attend an offering on a responsive day. This would assign those students to an offering, making sure every student is scheduled for the responsive period(s).

Schedule Gap Filler - Responsive Courses

This process needs to be discussed in planning sessions to determine into which courses these students are to be scheduled. This could be a study hall or work time or some other project that is assigned.

Follow the same process as noted above, verifying the correct Effective Date is entered and the correct responsive course is selected. Note that all courses are included in the list, not just responsive courses. But only offerings occurring on the entered date can be selected.
