Tool Search: Truancy

The Truancy tool records instances of the student meeting the habitually truant or excessively absent thresholds.

Truancy records track when a student becomes habitually truant or excessively absent.

Using the Truancy Tool

There are two ways to create Truancy records: by enabling an automatic process that runs nightly or manually based on results from the HB410 Student Truancy Extract.

Automatic

Tool Search: Attendance Aggregation Preferences

To enable the nightly script, access the Attendance Aggregation Preferences tool and set Aggregation Calculation to `sp_OH_summarizeAttendance`. Once enabled, a nightly job creates records when students have met an absence threshold. Use the HB410 Student Truancy Extract to audit created records if desired.

Manual

Truancy records can also be created manually for students when they meet truancy and absence thresholds. Specific timelines are determined by districts.

1. Generate the HB410 Student Truancy Extract to report students who have met thresholds.
2. Create Truancy records for those students.
 - Select a Truancy Type. Different options display for Excessively Absent and Habitually Truant.
 - Select options and enter dates for the student's record.
3. Use the PLP module to create an Absence Intervention Plan for students. Enter the date this plan was created on the Truancy tool.
4. Use the Attendance Letters tool to communicate with parents. Record the message date on the Truancy tool.
