Reporting Population and Logic Rules

Student must be tied to a Behavior Event that ties to a state code value
- Behavior Event date should overlap the ESS DCC Start/End date time span
- If the ESS DDC Start Date is NULL, consider 7/1/YYYY as the default begin of the report time span (with YYYY as the start year set in the Campus toolbar)
- If the ESS DDC End Date is NULL, consider currentDate as the default end of the report time span

Student must be tied to a Behavior Incident that has at least one Behavior Resolution that ties to a state code value
- Behavior Resolution must be mapped to an active State Resolution Code
- If there is more than one Behavior Resolution mapped to an active State Resolution Code tied to a single Behavior incident, then a violation record should be sent for each state mapped resolution

Student must be tied to a Behavior Incident that has at least one participant that is an offender

Student must be a Special Ed student:

- A student has a locked IEP with dates that overlap the behavior incident .
  - If student has NO IEPs, then a flag with a state program code of 999 (IEP) where the dates overlap the behavior incident counts as a SPED student as well.
- If Ad Hoc filter is populated, extract all students in the filter regardless of SPED status
- Do not report students whose enrollment records are state excluded
- Do not report students whose enrollment records are tied to a calendar that is state excluded
- Do not report students whose enrollment records are tied to a grade level that is state excluded
- Do not report students whose enrollment records are marked as "No Show"
