Tool Search: School Connections

For intradistrict Cross-Site Enrollment participation, School Connections allows the district administrator to determine which school within the district can offer courses to other schools and which schools can accept offerings from other schools. For example, in a district with three high schools, those high schools might be marked to offer and accept from the other high schools but not from the elementary schools.

Read - Access the School Connections tool, view the main and side panels, and filter by school and grade level.

Write - Mark Offer To and Accept From to share offerings.

Add - N/A

Delete - N/A

Once marked here, the Cross-Site Enrollment Setup tool displays only those schools configured for offering to and accepting from:

- When the Accept From option is not selected in the Home School's School Connections tool for a given Serving School, that Serving School and its courses do not display on the Home School's Serving Panel.
- When the Offer To option is not selected in a Serving School's School Connections tool for a given Home School, that Serving School and its courses are not displayed on the Home School's Serving Panel.

Setting the School Connections Offer To/Accept From is done after determining which schools in the district are marked for Cross-Site Enrollment participation. For more information, see the Cross-Site Configuration article.
