from <https://issues.infinitecampus.com/jira/browse/SIS-179255>

"The only delimiter the code checks for is the comma. The given `import file.txt` is in a tab-delimited format. To make the import tool work as expected, it was sufficient to find-and-replace all tab characters with comma characters or choose a CSV file. The file extension does not have to be `.csv`. The code has expected a comma since 2007, and this is consistent with this tool's FRD. If, moving forward, the state will deliver these files solely as tab-delimited please re-open the case."

layout should be in comma delimited, example given was in tab-delimited
