Why is CSE attendance being sent for a course that was dropped?

Cross-Site Attendance taken at the home school is still sending to the home school's period, even if the course at the home school was dropped

This occurs when home school attendance is marked during a period where a past or future CSE roster record exists for the same period and the attendance date falls within the CSE enrollment's start and end dates. Normally, the enrollment dates align with the roster dates. However, if a student is enrolled in multiple CSE courses at the same serving school with different start/end dates, there can be a gap where the CSE enrollment is active but the roster for a particular course is not. That is the situation seen with Aaron, Sullivan in the replication.

This occurs in both intradistrict and interdistrict CSE.
